Torri Sloan enjoys her unique position in today's business climate as an authority on how business can leverage cost while attracting and keeping quality employees and her ability to add value to those employers seeking to eliminate costs out of their current employment and benefit structure. She is currently enjoying her 13th year of a successful career in the Professional Employer Organization Industry (PEO).

As a leading local subject matter expert on all things employee cost related, Torri reminds employers that attracting and building a great team of employees includes a number of things many often fail to use to their advantage. Those items include; Payroll Administration, Employee Benefits, Human Resources and Workers' Compensation.

Some employers think of these as unavoidable costs. Others share the perspective of Torri, recognizing them for what they are, an opportunity to invest wisely, building a quality team of employees and a profitable company by creating the right foundation for all concerned. Torri's value is in her ability to provide management focus and information related to building that quality team, which includes identifying, managing and reducing costs associated with:

1. Attracting quality job applicants.
2. Retaining your best employees.
3. Finding the right benefits and/or PEO solution.

To accomplish this, Torri provides clients with a wide choice of PEO options, as well as strategic employee benefits solutions. All this through a carefully developed, high quality network of PEO partners, payroll service providers and alternative benefits & insurance provider professionals.

Because Torri is an independent broker with a selected network of partners, she has the flexibility to tailor the right combination of employee related cost solutions for her client. It's about listening to needs, planning solutions, then seeking the help of those who specialize in these disciplines.

Torri indicates that her greatest value to her clients is to help them control their operating costs related to their most important asset, their people!!

Torri has enjoyed the Tampa Bay Area with her husband and various rescued pups for 10 years. She enjoys friends and travel. She is active in the business community on both sides of the Bay.
